

Frank Geels affiliated with the Helmholtz Alliance ENERGY-TRANS

Between October 2013 and September 2014 Professor Geels is affiliated with the Helmholtz Alliance ENERGY-TRANS. He is being hosted by the Department for Organizational Sociology and Innovation Studies at the University of Stuttgart. At the university he will host a series of seminars for Helmholtz researchers, students and interested faculty. With his Stuttgart colleagues he is planning an international workshop and work is under way on a comparison of the British and German energy transition experiences.

Frank Geels is Professor of System Innovation and Sustainability at the Sustainable Consumption Institute, at the University of Manchester. Geels is chairman of the international Sustainability Transitions Research Network (www.transitionsnetwork.org), and one of the world-leading scholars on socio-technical transitions and radical innovation. Geels has published six books on socio-technical transitions and more than forty peer-reviewed articles. He is particularly well-known for this conceptual and empirical work on the Multi-Level Perspective (MLP) and Strategic Niche Management (SNM). He has twice won a Research Publication Award from IAMOT (International Association for the Management of Technology), and has been selected by Thomson Reuters into their list of 'Highly Cited Researchers'.