... Our German class was a fun melting pot from Argentina, China, South Korea, Singapore, and Australia. Even the occasional tension with communication styles intersecting was interesting. Our excellent lecturers became envious of our weekend travels! The big question on Friday was, “So what are you doing on the weekend?” Then Mondays began with re-telling our adventures, who rode a bus back all night, tales of adventure or missing a train; though remarkably few mishaps and loads of laughter. True to German style, the University Program was thoughtful and extremely well run.

I am an ardent advocate for the Study trips, for every reason of enrichment. This trip I have 6,000 photos of reminders of this ‘lifetime’ of adventure and learning from the brief overseas immersion. I am enriched by each trip for my future prospects and would definitely go again if the opportunity was available.
