Our suggestion for today: Old Town Esslingen

Cracked alleys and historical edifices of stone bear witness to 12 centuries of history. The Esslingen "Burg" (castle) which towers majestically above the town and the oldest half-timbered house in the country are one of the most popular sights in Esslingen.

How to get there: from main station take S1 (direction of Plochingen) to "Bahnhof Esslingen (N)"

Our suggestion for today: Schloss Ludwigsburg

Built between 1704 and 1733 during the rule of Duke Eberhard Ludwig, the Residential Palace is one of the greatest German baroque palaces still around today: it has 452 rooms spread over 28 buildings. It is called the "Swabian Versailles" and used to be the residence of the kings of Württemberg. Today, state receptions and cultural events are still held in the palace theatre and in the assembly room of the Residential Palace. Stroll through the building phases from the laying of the cornerstone up until today.

Stuttgarter Ballett: „SHADES OF BLUE AND WHITE”

Directed by Natalia Makarova, William Forsythe, Uwe Scholz
Music by Mikhail Agrest / Wolfgang Heinz; Staatsorchester Stuttgart

Copyright pictures: © Stuttgarter Ballett

Copyright pictures: © Stuttgarter Ballett

Time	PROGRAM
06:30 pm (sharp!)	Meeting point Touristeninformation, i-Point, Königstraße 1a Stuttgart City Center
07:00 pm	Begin Ballet Shades of Blue and White SHADES OF BLUE AND WHITE presents three facets of classical ballet. The evening opens with "The Kingdom of the Shades" from La Bayadère (The Temple Dancer) with Natalia Makarova's world-famous version based on Marius Petipa's original choreography from 1877. The second part is the masterpiece Blake Works I , Forsythe's declaration of love to classical ballet, in a cool, casual and modern style. Uwe Scholz rounds off the evening with his Seventh Symphony to Ludwig van Beethoven's composition of the same name, a prime example of neoclassical ballet.
approx. 10:00 pm	End
