

MIT INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY INITIATIVES (MISTI)

MIT-Germany - University of Stuttgart Seed Fund

Seed funds for Germany promote cutting-edge research collaborations and help to deepen partnerships between MIT faculty and researchers and their German counterparts.

MIT-Germany – University of Stuttgart Seed Fund

Launched as an initiative in 2015 through the MIT-Germany - University of Stuttgart cooperation, the fund provides faculty and research scientists at MIT and the University of Stuttgart the opportunity to jointly apply for seed grants. The maximum award is $25,000.

Open to all disciplines, priority will be given to projects that:

- propose a balanced exchange between MIT and University of Stuttgart participants
- have at least one Junior Researcher as a principal investigator
- include young graduate students (early-stage PhD & Masters) to enhance their international outreach
- demonstrate complementarity between the teams
- open to all disciplines

The MIT-Germany - University of Stuttgart Seed Fund is a part of MISTI Global Seed Funds. All general MISTI Global Seed Funds criteria, application and evaluation procedures apply. This year's application deadline is December 14th, 2020.

Finding an MIT Collaborator

Need help finding an MIT professor or researcher to collaborate with? Browse MIT research centers, labs, and programs here: tiny.cc/mitfaculty

The MIT-Germany team is happy to help identify potential collaborators and make introductions to MIT faculty. Please contact Managing Director Justin Leahey (jleahey@mit.edu).